

We put a great new face on a great analgesic.

Over a decade ago, the introduction of Satogesic pads in the U.S. literally changed the application of external analgesics. It was an innovation that's now widely accepted in the industry and delivers a large and growing share of sales.

Now it's time for even bigger changes.

As one of the world's largest selling lines of external analgesics, the Satogesic brand has evolved into a family of easy-application formulas. Line extensions now include both hot and cool one-piece medicated pads, as well as lotions, sprays and gels.

More delivery systems, more profit for you.

All Satogesic products were created to look attractive on the shelf and, more importantly, to act quickly in providing pain relief, to be mess-free and not leave stains on clothing.

For cool and soothing muscle ache, backache and arthritis pain relief, Satogesic "cool" topicals in blue packaging are recommended while "hot" products, in their own distinctive package, deliver relief from arthritis pain.
